

Senior Microsoft SQL Server Developer/Architect

Job Description

Betologic is hiring senior specialists to join the SQL team and participate in the management and development of the databases of their sport betting systems. This position requires senior Microsoft SQL developers with strong experience on critical high transactional systems. The candidates should understand and be able to articulate a broad range of core concepts, including distributed environments, scalability, concurrency problems and resolutions, and optimum utilization of resources for enhancing the performance of the system. The candidates will be responsible for the management and maintenance of databases of significant and strategic impact across the enterprise.

BASIC QUALIFICATIONS

- Bachelor's degree in Computer Science, Information Technology or related discipline.
- 4+ years as SQL Developer+Architect - must have hands on experience in SQL related activities.
- Experience with T-SQL DDL and DML, SQL CLR integration, Service Broker integration, XML Processing.
- Working experience and good understanding of SQL Server Installation, configuration, upgrade, and migration, capacity planning, server sizing, load balancing and integration with other databases such as Oracle
- Working experience with SQL Server 2005, 2008 - Performance Tuning, Backup recovery, replication, mirroring, administration etc.
- Experience with Windows Operating Systems and Web servers.
- Experience providing technical advice and guidance to colleagues.
- Good English communication and cross-group collaboration skills
- Ability to understand and integrate new technologies.
- Ability to work effectively in a team environment.
- Ability to multitask, troubleshoot and resolve problems.
- Experience with .NET will be considered an advantage.
- Experience with SQL Server 2012, 2014 also is considered an advantage.